2010 Power Women of the Year Recipients

Norma Fletcher

Ro Simpson

Norma Fletcher and Ro Simpson both began their journey with Habitat in 1999. The two women met on the work site of the Women's Build 1999 and have become good friends and team leaders. After serving in numerous capacities with Habitat, they became co-leaders of the Women's Build 2009. Norma and Ro remain dedicated to Habitat by volunteering their time and talents to end substandard housing in the community and across the globe.

2010 Honorary Chairs

Mary Jo Langdon and her daughters have given generously of their time, talents, and support of the Omaha community for many years. Mary Jo has been active in many worthwhile organizations including the YWCA, The Ak-Sar-Ben Women's Ball Committee, the Omaha Symphony Debutante Ball committee, Opera Omaha, St. Augustine Indian Mission and Liz's Legacy-Kicks for a Cure. Mary Jo's daughters follow in their mother's footsteps and are actively involved in different organizations and excel in their own realms. Mary Jo and husband Bob are proud that their daughters continue to be involved and make a difference either through the universities they attend or through their own communities.
